ADVERBS

by Mr A, Mr C and Mr D Present

Adverbs are words which describe the verbs,
And if you don't know verbs, you better get heard,
Verbs are action words,
Like - fight, climb, jump, rest, walk, clean or feed,
Like - fly, miss, build, whisper, cry or succeed,
Now take heed,
I'm gonna give you all you need,

Add a how, when or where to your verb,
It's called an adverb,
So don't be absurd,
Because you're learning now,
And it's time you found out,
Take a verb like jumped and think about how!

Bertram

"Oh, I get it. So, like, he jumped enthusiastically, or she jumped frantically, or they jumped gracefully. Ahhh yeah! Or merrily, nervously or safely, anxiously, foolishly, gently. What about...merrily? Oh I've said that one. Ah, I said that twice - hehe!

Mr D

Bertram stop talking, you're ruining the song,
There's too much to cover and we don't have that long,
Adverbs tell you where or when a verb takes place,
Let's choose chase then speed up the pace,
They often chased, they chased again, yesterday they chased,
Usually, regularly, inside, outside, all around,

Bertram

"Err, why are they chasing?"

Mr D

"That's not important."

Bertram
"Is one of them a burglar?"

Mr D
"No, no, Bertram, that's not important."

Bertram
"Is it kiss chase? Errrr!"

Mr D
"Bertram!"

Bertram
"Sorry. What's an adverb again? I wasn't listening."
